

The Works of Alexander Pope, Vol. 4: Containing His Satires, &C (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Works of Alexander Pope, Vol. 4: Containing His Satires, &C This paper is a fort of bill of complaint, begun many years since, and drawn up by snatches, as the several occasions offered. I had no thoughts of publishing it, till it pleased some Persons of Rank and Fortune [the Author of Verses to the Imitator of Harace, and of at Epistle to a Doctor of Divinity from a Nobleman at Hampton Court] to attack, in a very extraordinary manner, not only my Writings (of which, being public, the Public is judge) but my person, Morals, and Family, where of, to those who known me not, a truer information may be requisite. Being divided between the necessity to say something of myself, and my own laziness to undertake so awkward a task, I thought it the shortest way to put he last hand to this Epistle.
