US Army Training Circular, TC 1-211, AIRCREW TRAINING MANUAL UTILITY HELICOPTER, UH-1, 9 December 1992, military manuals

PREFACE

This manual provides specific guidelines for executing UH-1 aircrew training. It is based on the battle-focused training principles outlined in FM 25-101. Used with TC 1-210, this manual will help aviation commanders at all levels develop a comprehensive aircrew training program. It encompasses individual and collective training and establishes crew member qualification, refresher, mission, and continuation training requirements. Planning, preflight, and in-flight tasks involve the cooperative effort of all crew members. The prescribed tasks, conditions, standards, and descriptions explain each crew member's responsibilities for the successful completion of maneuvers. Each crew member must understand the actions and directives of the other crew members. This enhances crew coordination and unit interoperability and helps prevent accidents caused by human error. The crew coordination descriptions in Chapter 6 do not focus exclusively on individual training. Instead, they blend individual training with collective training and provide a link to field manuals, ARTEP mission training plans, and other doctrinal and training material. The goal is to develop cohesive, battle-oriented, combat-ready UH-1 crew members. This manual applies to unit commanders, evaluators, trainers, maintenance test pilots, and crew members who operate UH-1 aircraft. The ATMs are basic documents that standardize aircrew training programs and flight evaluation procedures. By using the ATMs, commanders ensure that individual crew member and aircrew proficiency is commensurate with their unit's mission. They also ensure that aircrews routinely employ standard techniques and procedures. Unit commanders must provide specific guidance for implementing the training outlined in this manual.
