

The Rhode Island Artillery at the First Battle of Bull Run (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Rhode Island Artillery at the First Battle of Bull Run When the first call for troops, to serve for the term of three months, was made by President Lincoln, in 1861, for the purpose of suppressing the rebellion, which had assumed most dangerous proportions to the National Government, the Marine Artillery, of this city, responded cheerfully to the call, and under the command of Captain Charles H. Tompkins, left Providence, April eighteenth, for the seat of war. The senior officer of the company, who remained at home, was Captain William H. Parkhurst, then book-keeper at the Mechanics Bank on South Main Street. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
