

Logging Winter

With his family strapped for money, 13-year-old R.T. gets hired in 1874 as the cooks helper for a logging camp in Michigans Upper Peninsula. He also steps closer to his dream of being a lumberjack and sawing down the mighty white pines of the endless forests. But can he survive the long winter pent up in the cook house with the mean cook? Is Paul Bunyan a real man like the others in camp claim? And can they win the seasons competition with the Indian Camp and the Fighting Camp from Paradise when there are other dangers holding them back?
